

Across

- Flakes of white that fall from the clouds in the sky during the winter.
- The objects that are lit and released into the sky. A festival concerning these objects is the Chinese Lunar New Year, an annual event that honors the Buddha.
- A seasonal beverage composed of milk, cream, sugar, and egg. It's well-known for being an alcoholic drink.
- This is a holiday celebrated in India. Clay lamps are lit to celebrate the story of King Rama.
- An adjective that describes the cold; also the name of a famous snowman.
- It's a typical tradition to kiss the person you meet under this plant.
- Colorful, spherical decorations placed on the branches of a tree.
- A popular and religious hymn sung during the holidays; usually associated with Christmas.
- The French name for a popular catholic holiday. It's a holy day when families visit cemeteries to remember and honor their deceased family members.
- A four-sided spinning top; featured in the popular holiday tune of the same name.
- A Jewish Holiday, celebrated during a span of several days. It celebrates the rededication of the Second Temple of Jerusalem.

Down

- A physical display or model representing Jesus Christ's birth.
- A tiny worker who makes gifts in the North Pole.
- Muslims celebrate this holiday at the end of the thirty days of fasting during Ramadan. It's a time for families and friends to come together and spend time with one another.
- With sweetness, a touch of spice, and a fragrant aroma, it's a very popular type of cookie to eat during the holidays.
- Rudolph is famous among these animals that pull sleigh rides.
- The name for the Vietnamese new year. The holiday celebrates new beginnings and the coming of spring.
- A traditional Filipino lantern made out of paper in the shape of a star. It represents the victory of light over darkness, hope, and goodwill.
- An annual African celebration; it is held to bring communities together to feast, honor ancestors, affirm bonds, and celebrate their culture.
- A candelabra with seven or nine candles. It's used during a Jewish Holiday.
- The old, jolly man in red who brings presents to all the children in the world.
- An item that's wrapped up and given to loved ones during the holiday season.

